JONATHAN CASSERILLA

This exhibition presents new work by Javier Chavira and Jonathan Casserilla.

Chavira, a Full Professor of Painting at GSU, explores traditional egg tempera painting in this body of work, made during his recent sabbatical.

Casserilla, who was once a student of Chavira, explores abstraction and experimental materials such as nail polish, perhaps inspired by his daughter.

These seeming divergences of thought, image, and final results are also the connecting elements in their work. Although both have followed different paths in their art making practices, the studio conversations continue as they often do between long-time colleagues.

Exhibition Dates:

October 10–December 6, 2017

Opening Reception:

Wednesday, October 11
from 4:30 to 7:30 p.m.
with remarks at 5:30 p.m.

The artists' talk will explore the teacher/student/colleague relationship as well as inspiration for their work, and creativity while life is happening.

The exhibition and talk are free and open to the public.
