

BIO

Olumide Ijose, Ph.D.

Dr. Olumide Ijose is currently an Associate Professor and Interim Chair of the Management, Marketing and Entrepreneurship Division as well as the MBA Coordinator at Governors State University.

Dr. Ijose has management consulting experience with Accenture and managerial experience with Shell. During his time at Accenture, he worked on strategy and change management assignments and he worked at Shell in a competence development role. He also has experience working for an international trading company.

He teaches Strategic Management and International Business and has published and presented on global value chains, national competitiveness, knowledge management, and strategic human resource management.

Dr. Ijose earned his Ph.D. in Management and Human Resources from the Fisher School of Business at Ohio State University.