Kraig M. Kistingner, SPHR

Kraig M. Kistingner is director of human resources for National Tube Supply, a distributor of carbon and alloy mechanical tubing with locations across the US and in Canada. As an HR practitioner for more than 20 years, Kraig is an experienced, provocative thought leader in the area of human resources. In addition, he has a proven track record of helping organizations augment their culture to drive results while living and breathing their vision and values.

Kraig's experience in human resources spans across the industrial sector including: steel, paper, rail & petrochemical. Prior to joining National Tube Supply, Kraig was responsible for corporate HR services and recruiting for a national mechanical contractor in the petro-chemical industry with an average employee base of 1500.

Kraig is active not only in his own organization but also within his profession and community. He is a past president of the Grundy Will Human Resources Association having served as a volunteer leader several years prior. Today, he serves on the board for the Will County Workforce Investment Board and the Personnel Committee for Guardian Angel Community Services.

Kraig received his bachelor's degree in management with an emphasis in human resources from the University of Illinois at Chicago and an MBA from Lewis University with an emphasis in Project Management. Additionally, he is a certified Senior Professional in Human Resources (SPHR) by the Human Resources Certification Institute. Kraig lives in Joliet with his family.
