

STOP THE VIOLENCE

LISTEN, LEARN, LEAD!

FRIDAY, JANUARY 20, 2017

STOP THE VIOLENCE: LISTEN, LEARN, LEAD! is the theme for the 2016 Inclusive Leadership Conference. This year's theme speaks to how violence impacts multiple identities of diversity through education that will empower participants with knowledge that will help them recognize how their background and skills can play an influential role in ending violence one leader at a time.

The Inclusive Leadership Conference is designed to help our academic communities create an understanding and appreciation for multiple identities through self-awareness while encouraging them to be free of misconceptions and prejudices through social justice education. Through interactive workshops and guided group discussions, participants will be able to:

- Articulate principles of social justice
- Recognize how their own experiences inform their leadership style and perceptions
- Understand the importance of diversity in leadership
- Identify dynamics of power and privilege when working in groups
