

Accounting Resource Guide

The following websites include Professional Organizations as well as a variety of other sites of interest for those in the accounting fields.

<http://aaahq.org/join.cfm>

The American Accounting Association website features access to accounting publications and the latest research. Although there is a price for membership, college students are given a discounted rate. Information on professional accreditation is listed here.

<http://www.taxsites.com/>

All of the latest updates on relevant tax and accounting issues are in this website. Relevant links for government agencies and private accounting firms, as well as a variety of other accounting topics are also available.

www.aicpa.org

This is the official website for the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Many accounting links are established on this page and current issues and accounting standards are also discussed.

<http://www.accounting.com/>

For a fee, you can post your resume and have access to many professional organizations.

www.theiia.org

Site of the Institute of Internal Auditors

Although a paid membership is required for some navigation through the site, a wealth of information is available about valuable networking sources of current events.

<http://www.jobsinthemoney.com/>

Post resumes for jobs in finance, accounting and banking positions.

<http://www.fasb.org/>

Financial Accounting Standards Board website

The latest news on financial accounting standards and new organizational positions are updated.

<http://www.uncwil.edu/stuaff/career/Majors/accounting.htm>

Website sponsored by the University of North Carolina at Wilmington; general information on entering the field of accounting is listed. Information is available on the types of positions in which a person with an accounting background may apply.