- Pregnant and Parenting:

Addressing social determinants of health for substance use recovery.

Recent discussions underscored the critical importance of addressing social needs—such as access to clean clothing—as a foundational part of supporting individuals in recovery. Through consistent collaboration across all ROSC members, we have focused much of our efforts over the past year and a half on meeting these basic, yet essential, needs.

This coordinated approach is proving effective and must remain a central focus. By addressing these social determinants, we are not only supporting individual recovery journeys but also strengthening the overall system of care through enhanced collaboration among service providers.

Together, we are helping individuals:

- Secure employment opportunities
- Access educational and vocational resources
- Connect with medical and behavioral health care
- Receive health and wellness support

- Obtain clean laundry and appropriate clothing

Navigate legal challenges

- Identify community-based resources for ongoing support

These efforts are making a meaningful difference in people's lives and reflect the shared mission of our ROSC to create a comprehensive, person-centered recovery network.

Additionally, the ongoing need for donations to support our supply closet was discussed. Maintaining this resource is vital to continuing our work and ensuring individuals have access to the basic items that help remove barriers to recovery.

Additional Council Actions and Discussions:

- Initiated planning for interagency meetings for Greene and Scott Counties to improve cross-sector collaboration.
- Agreed to publicly display monthly ROSC service numbers via Facebook and printed flyers to enhance transparency and community awareness.
- Discussed launching a support group for grandparents raising grandchildren due to parental substance use, recognizing the growing need for targeted peer support.
- Agreed to begin hosting a ROSC Council planning committee meeting at the beginning of each month to organize initiatives and set priorities more effectively.
- Member Updates
- Just as a reminder, there is a Member Orientation on the 3rd Wednesday of every month where new members can join to learn about ROSC, our work and the direction of our council
