Jeff N.- a ROSC council member and RIA committee member who volunteers weekly at Logan County Jail, leading recovery meetings for the men there.

"I love being able to go into the county jail and give the guys a chance to talk about what they are going through. It is the best hour of my week. I am grateful that recovery has led me to get involved with ROSC, which has helped open up opportunities for us to make a difference inside. Being a person in recovery, I'm humbled to be able to serve this way."
