Meeting Summary:

Cornerstone Services provided an informative presentation about its behavioral health services and the support available to individuals in need. Cornerstone Services emphasized its commitment to providing high-quality, intensive mental health services to some of the community's most vulnerable citizens. The organization highlighted that its behavioral health services continue to grow and evolve in response to the changing needs of the individuals and families it serves.

Cornerstone also discussed the importance of integrating mental health treatment with other supportive services. Individuals receiving treatment may have access, based on availability, to board-certified psychiatrists and psychiatric mental health nurse practitioners at their location. These services can include a comprehensive psychiatric evaluation and, when clinically appropriate, follow-up medication management.

The presentation reinforced the connection between mental health, substance use recovery, and overall well-being. Access to appropriate behavioral health services can provide individuals with additional tools and professional support as they work toward stability and long-term recovery.

Overall, the Bounce Back 2 Life ROSC meeting provided valuable information about community-based recovery and behavioral health resources. Cornerstone Services' presentation highlighted the importance of connecting individuals to quality mental health services and ensuring that people in recovery have access to comprehensive support that addresses their individual needs. The forum also encouraged continued collaboration among community organizations, treatment providers, and recovery support partners to help improve outcomes for individuals and families.
