

GOVERNORS STATE UNIVERSITY IN PARIS, FRANCE
TRANSNATIONAL CRIME AND SUSTAINABLE PLANNING INITIATIVES

SPRING 2019

TRANSNATIONAL CRIME AND SUSTAINABLE PLANNING INITIATIVES

COURSES OFFERED

CJUS 4000/7230 AND PADM 8000
(Note: CJUS 4000 is for undergraduates and CJUS 7230 is for graduate students)

COURSE TITLES

SPECIAL TOPICS:
TRANSNATIONAL CRIME
SUSTAINABLE PLANNING INITIATIVES:
A GLOBAL MODEL

STUDENTS

OPEN TO GRADUATE AND
UNDERGRADUATE STUDENTS

DATES

SPRING SEMESTER 2019
JANUARY 22 - MAY 1, 2019
ON CAMPUS GSU

MAY 3 - 12, 2019
PARIS-AMERICAN GRADUATE
SCHOOL IN PARIS

APPLICATION/DEPOSIT DEADLINE
$500 DUE ON DECEMBER 1, 2018

COST

$3,680

Includes: international direct round-trip flight to Paris, on-site orientation, accommodations in shared hotel rooms, daily breakfast, cultural tours and sightseeing activities, welcome and farewell dinner, international health insurance, classroom space, on-site support.

Not included: tuition and fees (or auditing fee), most meals, activities during free time, personal expenses/souvenirs.

FOR ADDITIONAL INFO

Vincent Jones vjones4@govst.edu

Susan Gaffney sgaffney@govst.edu

Amy Schoenberg acschoenberg@govst.edu

ACADEMIC PROGRAM

TOTAL CREDIT HOURS 6 CREDIT HOURS (3.0 EACH COURSE)

This unique two course, six credit hour program features from GSU's Criminal Justice and Public administration programs condensed into a four week period culminating in a 10 day study abroad hosted by API and the American Graduate School in Paris. Students will be able to intermingle with local Parisian students, engross themselves in the international culture of one of the world's oldest and historic cities all while learning the most recent and relevant global information from world leaders and distinguished GSU faculty. The two courses being offered are:

EXAMINING TRANSNATIONAL CRIME

This course is being offered as a Special Topics course. This 3-hour Criminal Justice course will examine the new trends in crime across borders, discuss international agencies authorized to address transnational crime, and explore cutting edge methods for combating the new wave of crime effecting nations across the globe.

SUSTAINABLE PLANNING INITIATIVES

This course is being offered as an elective course, which discusses global models for cities and nation states to maintain sustainable models for growth that is inclusive, incorporates diversity, and addresses the many challenges facing cities across the globe.

Both courses are being offered in a unique format that provides in-class standard instruction as well as out-of-class experiential learning opportunities on an international scale.

These innovative courses focus on some of the most compelling social and legal problems facing American society and the world today: inequities and failures in criminal justice, law, education, politics, and administration of policies that have led to the current state of social unrest, racial discord, disenfranchisement of certain communities, and the apparent lack of equal protection and equal opportunity. In doing so, both courses not only take a critical view of the problems facing America, and the world, but also seek to map out positive solutions and direction.

APPLICATION PROCEDURE

Contact Amy Schoenberg at acschoenberg@govst.edu for an appointment.

Fill out the study abroad application and deposit form.

Receive notification of acceptance.

Faculty leaders make the final decision on the acceptance and may request references or an interview with the applicant.