What if monumental, abstract, outdoor sculpture turns out to be the very thing we've been looking for to change the world for the better?

Hopefully you've experienced the park for yourself, and understand the power of the collection.

With your support, we now have an opportunity to continue this work by:

- o Maintaining and caring for the art in the collection and the land around it
- o Energizing the collection through new acquisitions and visiting exhibitions
- o Welcoming more area school children to Outdoors@theNate
